WHAT THE STARS SAY

IT'S the eve of the League Cup Final and as League Champions Liverpool and FA Cup holders West Ham prepare for the big day at Wembley, Match Weekly has been asking some of the top stars in the game who they think will be lifting the coveted trophy... see if you agree with their verdicts.

Cockney confidence will see them through

GARY SHAW (Villa)

WEST HAM are the team in form and I'm going to stick my neck out and go for them to win.

It's going to be tight, but the Londoners are on the crest of a wave at the moment and their confidence will carry them through.

I hope it's an exciting game because League Cup Finals in recent years have failed to live up to expectations.

PREDICTION: West Ham 2 Liverpool 1.

'REDS HAVE

One goal in it!

ARTHUR GRAHAM (Leeds)

I'M going to side with Liverpool purely because they have the experience and are a First Division team, but it's going to be a close run thing.

West Ham are a very well organised side and will be no push-overs, but Liverpool will be keen to show everybody that they are not slipping.

I'm taking Liverpool to win by the odd goal.

PREDICTION: Liverpool 1 West Ham 0.

● Arthur Graham, close thing

● John Hollins — goals from anywhere.

Hammers can cause an upset
JOHN HOLLINS (Arsenal)

I THINK West Ham can cause the same kind of upset they did in the FA Cup Final last season.

They're so relaxed at the moment, having taken such a big lead at the top of Division Two, and they are scoring goals from almost every department.

Players like Trevor Brooking, Paul Goddard and Alan Devonshire are capable of turning any match on their own and with Liverpool not enjoying the best of form, I'm taking West Ham to win.

PREDICTION: West Ham 1 Liverpool 0.

● Chris Nicholl — pure football.

Experience the key

NICHOLL
(Southampton)

IT'S going to be an interesting battle between West Ham's pure football and Liverpool's professional strength.

I always enjoy watching West Ham, but I think Liverpool's greater experience of the big occasion will see them through.

Liverpool's League form of late may not have been very impressive, but that will mean nothing at Wembley where they will draw on all their resources of experience and strength.

PREDICTION: Liverpool 2, West Ham 0.

Five goal thriller JIM PLATT (Middlesbro')

IT'S the only domestic honour available to Liverpool this season and I can't see them letting it go.

West Ham's form has been excellent, but Liverpool are far stronger overall and the skills of players like Kenny Dalglish and Terry McDermott will swing it for them on the day.

As both teams like to attack, I'm looking forward to an entertaining, high scoring game. But I reckon Liverpool will sneak it.

PREDICTION: Liverpool 3 West Ham 2.

THE GOAL SAYS POWER

Thompson will add class

KEVIN REEVES
(Manchester City)

IF Liverpool are back to full strength then I must take them to win the League Cup for the first time.

But it's going to be important that they have their defence back to full strength because Phil Thompson is a class player.

Their experience of the big occasion should help their cause and although West Ham have some very skilful players, I'm taking a full strength Liverpool to get home.

PREDICTION: Liverpool 2, West Ham 1.

John Richards (Wolves)

I'M TAKING Liverpool to win the cup for the first time.

I rate both teams very highly, but I think Liverpool have more goalscoring potential in midfield with Graeme Souness and Terry McDermott and this may be the key area.

Both teams are very powerful in defence and that's why Liverpool will be keen to have skipper Phil Thompson fully fit.

West Ham's Billy Bonds and Alvin Martin are good competitors and won't allow much room for Kenny Dalglish and David Johnson.

Trevor Brooking and Alan Devonshire are very skilful midfield players, but they lack the scoring potential of Souness and McDermott and that's why I believe one of those two players might hit the winner.

Liverpool also have the added incentive of never having won the League Cup plus the fact they will be keen to prove to people that they are by no means finished as a major force.

Let's face it, it's not a bad season when you reach a League Cup Final and qualify for the quarter-finals of the European Cup!

PREDICTION: Liverpool 1, West Ham 0.

Key 'keepers

SINCE the last war only two clubs have won League or Cup honours under a manager who was a goalkeeper as a player. They are Birmingham City, who with Gil Merrick as boss, collected the League Cup in 1962-63 and Leicester City who took the Second Division championship last season under Jock Wallace.

Forest fans

NOTTINGHAM Forest fans in the north-east have formed a Supporters club branch. Anyone interested in joining this or the accompanying 'Junior Reds' section for fans of 16 and under, should contact Robin Morris (chairman/secretary), Larun Beat, Yarm, Cleveland or telephone (0642) 785015.

Dedicated

THERE'S no more dedicated player around than Luton midfielder 'Lilly' Fuccilo, who has forced his way back into Luton's senior squad after twice breaking his leg.

Bedford-born Fuccilo (24) never gave up his fight and after pushing his way through months of lonely training work with weights has earned his reward as Luton bid for that elusive promotion spot.

Caribbean Stoke

STOKE players can't wait for the end of the season.

For as a reward for consolidating their place in the First Division, manager Alan Durban has come up with a dream reward for his players.

He will take them on a summer tour of the sunny islands of Barbados and Martinique.

Odd 'offs'

ODD SPOTS in this season's sending-off cases: Glenn Roeder (Q.P.R.) has been dismissed against his former club (Orient), Jonathan Clark (Derby) in his home city (Swansea), John Buchan (Cardiff), Mike Pickering (Sheffield Wednesday), Alan Sunderland (Arsenal), and Mike Trusson (Sheffield United) in the last minute, and Martin O'Neill (Norwich), Mark Dennis (Birmingham), and Alan Stevenson (Burnley) during injury time.

Can Kenny Hammer that League Cup hoodoo?

KENNY Dalglish is hoping his League Cup hoodoo has not followed him over the border from Scotland.

When he was with Celtic he played in three successive League Cup finals for the odds-on favourites before landing a winner's medal.

That came in 1974 when Hibernian suffered a 6-3 hammering, but even then Kenny failed to make the scoresheet.

It followed Final defeats of the favourites by Partick, Hibs and Dundee and Kenny was destined to complete his Scottish club career with just that one solitary League Cup winners' medal, because Rangers and Aberdeen also beat Celtic in the 1975 and '76 finals.

But the popular Liverpool striker is not worried about a possible jinx. He says with a wry smile: "I'm not superstitious about things like that... touch wood!"

Table-topper

MANY players look for alternative sports to help them relax and I could name quite a few who are pretty useful too, like Garry Birtles (squash), Jim Platt (badminton), Alan Ball (golf), Alan Ramage (cricket).

At Leeds United manager Allan Clarke set up a table tennis tournament recently for the players with Arthur Graham taking the top prize by defeating fellow Scottish international Eddie Gray in the final.

Arthur, who received his prize bat from Dunlop's Alan Hydes, might do well to challenge Carlisle's Pop Robson, a former Durham county player!

Points of view

PLAYERS come into the Football League from all points of the compass. Here's the proof: Joe NORTH used to be an Arsenal centre-forward, Alex SOUTH Halifax Town's half-back captain, and Keith EAST a Swindon Town striker. Now Alan WEST is a valued Luton Town performer.

weeks to go

Tough on Schuster

WEST Germany's brilliant blond midfielder Bernd Schuster is having a tough time of it off the field in Spain.

The former Cologne star has had an electrifying effect on the team's performances under Helenio Herrera as they have shot to second in the league, but off the pitch he gets on badly with many of the other players.

In particular Spanish international defender Migueli with whom there have been several so-called incidents.

Cubillas may be back

TEOFILO CUBILLAS, the 1978 captain of Peru and the man who blasted Scotland out of the finals with a two-goal salvo in Cordoba, could well be back again in 1982.

Widespread fears that he would be past the veteran stage are misplaced. If he wishes to add to the 52 caps he currently holds whilst enjoying life with Fort Lauderdale he would be welcome. And he is still only 32 — not too old at the top level.

Goals galore

GIFTED Hungarian midfielder Tibor Nyilasi is on the way back after two years in the wilderness.

He was sent off in the Argentina-Hungary clash in the 1978 World Cup, given a long international ban and effectively blocked from top football for two years.

But now he is back in action and smashing in goals galore for title favourites Ferencvaros in the League and making a good claim for an international comeback.

My Euro target

OUR superb 4-1 UEFA Cup victory in St Etienne must open the door for Ipswich to reach a European final for the first time.

That first leg success in France against one of the top sides in Europe should make our name something to be respected and possibly feared on the Continent.

Having beaten one of the favourites, Poland's Widzew Lodz, in the previous round, and then slammed St Etienne away from home, we have got to feel confident about getting to the final at least.

It was one of the most impressive displays by an Ipswich side I can remember, certainly one in the same street as the 1978 FA Cup Final win over Arsenal.

PAUL

St Etienne goalkeeper Castaneda is left stranded in the mud as Paul Mariner scores the third and his second goal in the 4-1 defeat of St Etienne.

Although manager Bobby Robson tried to conceal his confidence about our ability to get a result over there, former centre-half Alan Hunter, who had watched St Etienne, told us secretly that if we played as we can play then we had nothing to fear.

I must admit our hearts fluttered a little when they grabbed an early lead, but once I had headed home an Arnold Muhren cross, we controlled the match and in the end you could see their hearts wailing.

We only had six or seven clear cut chances but our finishing was brilliant and the defensive part of our performance was absolutely outstanding.

But we're not home and dry yet. St Etienne are a very good side and if we think we can just send out the shirts for the second leg then we'll get beat.

Players like Platini, Rep and Larios are top class and we need an early goal or two in the second leg next Wednesday to kill the tie stone dead.

Looking at the other ties, it was great to see Liverpool bounce back to form in the European Cup with a cracking 5-1 victory over CSKA Sofia and their experience should see them through in Bulgaria.

And what about tiny Newport's 2-2 draw against Carl

Zeiss Jena. A goalless draw will be enough to see them to the Cup Winners' Cup semi-finals so all they have to do is keep their heads against the East Germans.

But I was desperately disappointed with West Ham's 4-1 home defeat by Dynamo Tbilisi in the Cup Winners' Cup. No matter where your allegiance lies, you always want British teams to do well in Europe, but they have a very awesome task facing them in Russia next week.

With people having been knocking the English game it will be great to get at least a couple of teams through to European finals to show that our football is not that bad after all.

MARINER

IPSWICH and ENGLAND

Diary of a super striker

I'M following the form book and going for Liverpool to win the League Cup.

I know from our own experience at Wembley that you can't always go with form on the big occasion, but I can't help feeling that Liverpool will put it all together on the day.

They have been going through a bad patch by their high standards and it could be that West Ham will catch them as they bounce back to top form.

West Ham's confidence must be sky-high as they run away at the top of the Second Division and there are all the signs that it could be a classic confrontation at Wembley.

I think it will be in midfield where Liverpool might carry the bigger guns with the likes of Terry McDermott and Graeme Souness.

Liverpool to win a Wembley classic

West Ham have a good blend of experienced players and young talent and it will be interesting to see how they fare against the midfield force of Liverpool.

Trevor Brooking and Alan Devonshire are also capable of splitting defences wide open but I just feel that Liverpool will have the edge in that very important department.

But I do feel that West Ham will be one of the most successful sides to be promoted from the Second Division for some years.

Two-goal hero Paul Mariner (left) and defender Kevin Beattie celebrate Ipswich's 4-1 win in St Etienne.

SPAIN — AN IDEAL TEST

THE VISIT of Spain to Wembley for a friendly international on March 25 should be entertaining for the England fans.

Naturally I'm hoping to be in the team from the start this time having come on as substitute for Glenn Hoddle in the 2-1 European Championship victory over them in Turin last summer.

Although Spain are in the process of rebuilding for next year's World Cup Finals, they are bound to be an attractive, skilful side who will not allow the England forwards many chances.

It should provide England with an ideal test in preparation for the important World Cup matches against Rumania, Switzerland and Hungary, just around the corner.

Two young players who could soon be pushing themselves into the spotlight are Villa's Gary Shaw and West Ham's Paul Goddard.

Gary, who scored the only goal on his debut for the England Under-21s against Eire recently, has emerged in an impressive Villa side as a top class striker.

I haven't seen Paul Goddard play in person but from what I've seen on the TV and heard from team-mates, he looks a player to mark down for the future.

VOTE FOR A STAR

HAVE you voted for the Match Weekly 'Man of the Year' yet?

We are looking for a player who has excited you most this season and we want YOU to choose him and perhaps you will be the one to meet him and make the award.

Because that's the prize which goes to the reader picked from the total postbag — a chance to present our

Man of the Year with his coveted trophy.

Already Ipswich and Aston Villa players have earned your nomination — men like goal-scoring wonders John Wark and Gary Shaw or you might go for the artistry of Frans Thijssen or Gordon Cowans. Perhaps the unsung heroes, goalkeepers Paul Cooper or Jimmy Rimmer, deserve your vote.

For his brave comeback and cavalier style, Trevor Francis could be your man or Liverpool's ever-consistent and mercurial Kenny Dalglish and Sammy Lee.

Spurs' Steve Archibald and Garth Crooks have earned your recognition for their scoring talents as has the skill and flair of midfielders like Steve Hunt, Glenn Hoddle, Kevin Keegan, Steve McMahon and Craig Johnston.

West Ham's Trevor Brooking or Alan Devonshire will doubtless make a bid from the Second Division, as could Exeter's goal ace Tony Kellow, or Peterborough's Robbie Cooke. Then in Scotland there's Celtic's dazzling young prospect Charlie Nicholas.

Why not fill out the coupon below together with your name, address and age and send it to: Man of the Year, Match Weekly, Midgate House, Midgate, Peterborough to arrive not later than March 21, 1981.

And don't forget there will be a third and last chance to vote next week, when you can repeat your nomination or change your mind, if you wish!

OUR FLIGHT TO SAFETY

by Canaries' new boy

MARTIN O'NEILL

NEW signing Martin O'Neill has given Norwich City fans renewed hope that the Canaries can fly to First Division safety.

The £250,000 buy from Nottingham Forest made his debut in the vital relegation battle against fellow strugglers Brighton and immediately had the fans cheering.

His influence in the Norwich midfield was the main reason for their first win in 1981 as the Canaries swept away Brighton 3-1.

But the Northern Ireland skipper, who was put on the transfer list after a disagreement with Forest manager Brian Clough, realises that his new team face an uphill battle to stay in the top flight.

"We are in a precarious position and have a daunting task ahead. It was vital we beat Brighton and it's given us a much needed boost."

At 29, Martin still feels he's got plenty to offer the First Division — that's why he's got a special clause in his contract that releases him from Carrow Road if Norwich are relegated.

"I don't want to drop into the Second Division, but that's not to say I will definitely go if we are relegated. I might get to like Norwich and decide to stay."

MARTIN O'NEILL FACT-FILE

BIRTHPLACE: Kilree, Northern Ireland.
BIRTHDATE: March 1, 1952.
CAREER: Nottingham Forest, Norwich.
LEAGUE DEBUT: November 1971 v West Brom.
LEAGUE APPEARANCES: Nottingham Forest (257), Norwich (1).

MARTIN O'Neill turned down Norwich's first approach, but when manager Ken Brown came back to him he had no second thoughts about the move.

"The simple fact of the matter is that Norwich wanted me and Nottingham Forest didn't."

"I was surprised when Brian Clough allowed me to go. At the time Forest were on the brink of an FA Cup quarter final match against Ipswich and I would have thought he'd have needed all the experienced players he could muster."

"There are a few young lads in the Forest team now with promising futures — but that's all they have got. They need guidance from older professionals," added Martin.

When Martin joined Forest in 1971 they were a mediocre Second Division team.

He played a major part in Clough's plans and helped them to European Cup, League Championship and League Cup glory in their meteoric rise to the top.

"The success staggered me. We only scrambled into the First Division in 1977 by finishing third yet by the end of our first season back we'd won the Championship and the League Cup."

MATCHMEN OF THE MONTH

McMahon bounces back

STEVE McMahon, Everton's brilliant teenage midfield player, is the First Division's Matchman of the Month for February.

Although he spent the start of the month watching from the stands while under suspension, the England Under 21 player bounced back to star in Everton's final three matches of the month.

His average mark of 8.33 proved too good for England and Nottingham Forest striker Trevor Francis who underlined his return to fitness with some impressive displays during the month.

In third place was Brighton's Eire defender Mark Lawrenson, a key figure in his club's battle against relegation, while Scottish striker Jim McIlroy, scorer of some vital goals for Leicester, was fourth.

Gynn's the tonic

MICK Gynn, Peterborough United's diminutive midfield dynamo, proved the outstanding player in the Fourth Division last month, picking up the star rating in all his side's four matches.

His average mark of 8.00 put him ahead of Northampton striker Keith Bowen, son of the former Wales manager Dave Bowen, and Stockport's Tommy Sword.

It's Burns, again!

CELTIC'S Tommy Burns has done it again! The midfield driving force behind Celtic's bid for the Scottish Premier Division championship is 'Matchman of the Month' for the second time this season.

His mark of 7.66 put him just ahead of Dundee United's Dave Dodds, January winner Eamonn Bannon and Jim Sturrock.

Brooking heads London line-up

ENGLAND and West Ham star Trevor Brooking has won the Second Division award for the second time this season.

His average mark of 8.20 put him ahead of another London-based player, Orient's Stan Bowles.

In fact, players from London clubs filled four of the top five places last month, the odd one out being Derby goalkeeper Roger Jones.

For the full back was the top player in the division last month with an average mark of 8.33.

No fewer than four players — Mike Lester (Barnsley), Mick Tait (Portsmouth), Max Thompson (Blackpool) and Bob Hatton (Sheffield United) — all finished with a mark of 8.00.

'WE'LL B

I'll come home a better player, pledges Bond

Kevin Bond: "I don't think I have let anyone down."

Tottenham's Argentinian star Osvaldo Ardiles is the subject of 15-year-old David Edmonds' of Heavitree, Exeter, who admires the midfielder's courage and commitment. "He is one of the few footballers who can be called world class," he says.

Fourteen-year-old Roslan Yusof, of Orpington, Kent, drew this picture of Manchester United striker Garry Birtles: "He has been doing well despite a shortage of goals," says Roslan.

E BACK'

WHILE Kevin Bond embarks on a new career in America with Seattle Sounders, the club he's left behind, Norwich City, is fighting for First Division survival.

Defender Kevin feels sorry about the club's plight but points out: "It's not a question of me leaving a sinking ship as many people think."

"I expressed my desire to leave the club back in October before the relegation problems so I don't think I have let anyone down."

Kevin has signed a one-year contract with Alan Hinton's Seattle side and it's expected that he will return to England next season to link up again with father John at Manchester City.

All Kevin would say on the subject was: "Let's just say I'm hoping to play in the Football League again next season."

What about his ambition to represent his country at full international level?

"I don't think my decision to play in America will harm my chances. In fact, it might well improve them," he says.

"The standard of football in America is improving all the time and it's possible the experience this summer will make me a better player."

"Seattle are one of the strongest teams in the country so I'm hoping we will reach the championship play-offs at the end of the season."

Kevin had an insight of life in Seattle before the offer came.

"I've spent a couple of holidays in Seattle with former Norwich team mate John Ryan so I know a little about the place and set-up."

"I'm really looking forward to the new challenge, but I'm also eager to make my mark on the English scene again next season."

Right: Norwich striker Justin Fashanu, is captured by 13-year-old Stuart Wood of South Cerney, near Cirencester: "He's a brilliant player who keeps up morale in the Norwich camp," he says.

Far right: England and Southampton centre half Dave Watson is the choice of 12-year-old Brian Donnanhan, of Tuam, County Galway, Eire.

'Rocket' Rioch's on his way

FORMER Scotland skipper Bruce Rioch has almost certainly kicked his last ball in the Football League.

After a brief spell in the Fourth Division with Torquay United, 23-year-old Bruce, pictured below in his Derby days, has been re-signed by American club Seattle Sounders on a three-year contract.

Bruce spent last summer at Seattle with former Derby team mate Alan Hinton.

FORMER Norwich star Kevin Bond and ex-Scotland skipper Bruce Rioch have crossed the Atlantic to play for Seattle Sounders in the North American Soccer League... but they'll be back. Match Weekly talks to both players about their future plans.

"My family stayed in Britain last summer, but this time they are coming with me," says Bruce who has made more than 500 League appearances.

"You could say it will be the end of my playing career in this country, but I've finished by having a good time with Torquay."

The former Luton, Aston Villa, Everton and Derby midfielder player, well known for his rocket-like left foot, will probably return when his contract expires to try his hand at management.

"I'm keen to continue playing as long as possible. I will then concentrate on being a manager, but I'm not interested in becoming a player-manager," explains Bruce who led Scotland in the 1978 World Cup Finals.

Torquay were struggling when Bruce joined them in November, following summer discussions in America with the club's consultant manager Frank O'Farrell.

In the 14 League matches he played, Torquay lost only three, to move into mid-table security, so the influence of his midfield leadership will be sorely missed by the West Country club.

Scouts never knocked for me

'IT WAS MY BROTHER
THEY WANTED',
recalls Sunderland's
new capture Tom Ritchie.

AS a youngster, Sunderland's new signing Tom Ritchie was used to seeing football scouts knocking on his door.

But they weren't interested in his skills — they wanted to sign his younger brother Steve.

"In fact, I think the only reason Bristol City invited me down for a trial was to keep my brother company," said Tom.

But the long trip down from their home in Edinburgh proved worthwhile — for the two brothers were both offered apprenticeships by Bristol.

Tom went on to make more than 300 League appearances for the West Country club before his £200,000 move to Sunderland in January.

Steve also made a career in the game and played for Morton, Hereford, Aberdeen and Torquay.

"We were playing together in the Stirlingshire League when the scouts spotted us," said Tom.

Despite having to leave home and cross the border, there was no chance of the brothers becoming homesick. "It was like a big adventure and we loved it," said Tom.

The pair played in Bristol's successful youth team and it wasn't long before Tom's goals brought him in line for a run in the first team.

His big day came early in the 1972-73 season, during City's Second Division home clash with Mansfield. At the end of the season he finished with 27 full appearances and four goals to his credit.

"It was a big wrench to leave Bristol after 11 years, but I'm looking forward to helping keep Sunderland in the First Division."

"I had no second thoughts when the move was suggested — it has given me another crack at the First Division and that's where I want to play," added Tom.

The Scottish striker turned midfielder is Sunderland manager Ken Knighton's second big buy of the season. He recently splashed out £275,000 to bring Ian Bowyer from Nottingham Forest.

"The people of Sunderland live for football and I'm looking forward to the challenge here," added Tom.

NEIGHBOUR KNOCKS THE FINAL NAIL IN COVENTRY'S COFFIN

Jimmy Neighbour (West Ham) v Coventry, League Cup semi-final, second leg, at Upton Park, February 10, 1981.

WINGER Jimmy Neighbour became the West Ham hero with his last gasp winner against Coventry which took the Second Division leaders through to the League Cup Final.

With the thrilling semi-final, second leg, looking destined for extra time, Jimmy, who was only in the team due to the absence of Pat Hollands, struck one of the most decisive goals of his career.

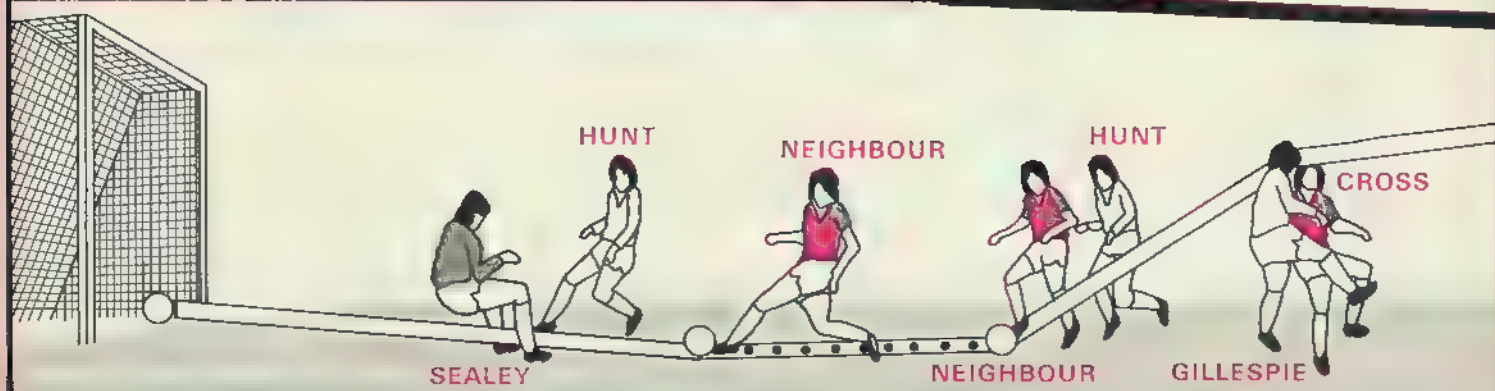

This is how he saw the dramatic moment: "Frank Lampard crossed the ball to the edge of the Coventry penalty area and I started a run into the box.

"David Cross and Coventry's Gary Gillespie challenged for the ball and it was not clear at the time who made the final touch.

"But the ball dropped kindly into my path.

"In fact, I mis-hit the shot as goalkeeper Les Sealey came off his line. If I had hit it cleanly he might well have saved it."

MELVYN BECK

AT THE end of the season Hartlepool manager Billy Horner could have one thing in common with the outrageous Nottingham Forest chief Brian Clough.

That is to achieve promotion with the North East club who have had to seek re-election to the Football League on a record nine occasions.

The only time Hartlepool were promoted to the Third Division was back in 1969 when Clough was starting out on his managerial career.

They survived only one season and since then have struggled in the depths of the Fourth Division.

But times may be changing according to midfielder star Bobby Kerr, the former Sunderland cup hero:

"The lads are confident that we'll get promoted and if we do then I think we will hold our own in the Third," says Bobby, a former 'Matchman of the Month'.

BOBBY KERR BIDS FOR GLORY AGAIN

"I had one season with Blackpool in the Third Division and quite honestly I've not found much difference in the Fourth, except that the ball is in the air more often.

"If anything we play too much football for our own good at times, so I don't think we will look out of place in the Third Division.

"We might need two or three players to strengthen the side although we've got plenty of good young players coming through.

"So if we don't make it this time, I'm sure we will in the very near future."

Bobby, skipper of Sunderland's

FA Cup winning side in 1973, was told when he returned to the North East this season that Hartlepool would go up.

"After finishing 19th last season it took some swallowing, but the manager looks as though he could be proved right.

"We've had a couple of setbacks recently mainly because the goals have dried up, and scoring has been our main strength this season.

"But we are still there and, apart from Southend, the other teams are certainly no better than us.

"If we could get promotion it would certainly be a bonus for me at the back end of my career."

Hartlepool's Bobby Kerr with the Match weekly Fourth Division Matchman of the Month award he won in October.

Hesford's a hit with Sexton

IT WAS a case of fourth time lucky for Blackpool goalkeeper Iain Hesford when he received a late call-up for the England Under-21 squad.

Although Blackpool are struggling near the foot of the Third Division with one of the worst defensive records in the Football League, England Under-21 boss Dave Sexton remained faithful to Iain when Brighton's Perry Digweed was withdrawn because of club commitments.

With Leeds' John Lukic the first choice, Iain obviously felt it was going to be another night on the substitute's bench — as in his three previous squad appearances.

But this time he was given his first cap as a second-half substitute in the 1-0 victory over Eire at Anfield and he produced several fine saves to underline his potential. In fact, England's newest international was actually born in Kenya, but moved to this country as a youngster and joined Blackpool from school.

Ray's a laugh!

£5 Sent off! WHAT a joke Liverpool's Ray Clemence is! The goal he conceded against West Brom was laughable.

Bryan Robson made him look like a puppet with some strings missing as he slotted the ball through his legs. And he let the same thing happen against Brighton when Gordon Smith scored.

How he can be classed as international calibre after performances like that amazes me.

Of Clemence and Shilton, I know who I'd want to be England's regular goalkeeper! Paul Flanagan (13), Thornton Heath, Surrey.

OUTRAGED!

KEMP NOT KELLOW

I'M outraged by the claim of Stephen Howes in 'Match' that Exeter's Tony Kellow would make his mark in the First Division.

What rubbish! He's not even a proven goalscorer. He's only really come good this season and it's only because of Exeter's FA Cup exploits that he has become well-known.

Give me Plymouth's David

Kemp — now he's a prolific goalscorer! Jon Treharne (14), Lawrence Weston, Bristol.

● TONY'S been scoring goals all his career. You're booked for trying to take credit away from him for his fine achievements this season. Prolific goalscorers like him are rare — he deserves a crack at the big-time.

NEWCASTLE are struggling to survive in the Second Division this season.

While their first team is finding life difficult it's good to see that their reserves are highly placed in the Central League.

I've got a bit of advice to their new manager Arthur Cox — give your reserves a chance to prove themselves in Division Two.

Chris Cowen (Sunderland fan), East Herrington, Sunderland.

Call for Hunt, Ron!

COVENTRY'S Steve Hunt has thoroughly justified his decision to try his luck in the First Division.

It takes a brave man to turn down the rich pickings of a career in America with New York Cosmos and attempt to make the grade in the toughest League in the world.

He's shown us all what a good player he is and his exciting performances this season took Coventry to the brink of the League Cup Final.

I hope that his skilful, hardworking game hasn't been lost on England manager Ron Greenwood.

Mark Georgevic, Victoria Park, Manchester.

Don't ignore

HOLLAND have just included Frans Thijssen in their national squad, but how can they ignore the skills of his Ipswich team-mate Arnold Muhren?

Since the last European Championships the Dutch have suffered some terrible results — yet these two don't figure regularly.

If they are to have any chance of qualifying for the World Cup Finals in Spain next year they must regularly include these two World class stars Ian McKay, Ayr, Scotland.

Right: Ipswich midfielder star Frans Thijssen — Holland needs players of his class.

Great, Garry!

CONGRATULATIONS Garry Brooke! You did a marvellous stand-in job for Osvaldo Ardiles.

Everyone thought Spurs would suffer when their Argentinian international went off to play in the World Cup winners' tournament in Uruguay.

But the youngster proved to be up to the test and showed what a bright prospect he is. Well done!

Stephen Williams (11), Borden, Sittingbourne, Kent.

United pair too similar

GARRY BIRTLES and Joe Jordan are too much alike in styles to be a successful partnership for Manchester United.

When Garry was at Nottingham Forest he relied heavily on the skills of Tony Woodcock (now Cologne) and Trevor Francis to set up chances for him.

That's why he's not scoring any goals — one in 20 matches is hardly £1m man form.

Manager Dave Sexton looked to be spending money for the sake of it. A. Thomas (15), Shrewsbury.

I'M Anthony Hawk swell and I'm in charge of the 'Outraged' column.

I'll stand no nonsense... any back-chat and I'll send you off! I'll be giving marching orders to the writer of the most outrageous letter of the week and booking others who make me really angry.

And just to make it more interesting I'll pay £5 to the person I send off and £2 to each one I book.

But be warned... I'm the real and my decision stands.

WARK and SHAW

My players of the year

JOHN WARK and Gary Shaw . . . those are two names to watch for when the Professional Footballers' Association awards are announced on Sunday.

Ipswich midfielder John must be one of the favourites for the 'Player of the Year' award — if only for the amazing number of goals he has scored this season.

Of course he's playing in a good side which always helps, but so far he's had one of those seasons when everything has gone right for him.

As for Gary he must be fancied to take the 'Young Player of the Year' honour.

Again he's been fortunate enough to play in a team enjoying a successful season, but that's in no small way due to his own alertness and finishing skill.

And the nice thing is that's he's not gone around shouting his mouth off

Of course there are other candidates for the awards — like Ipswich Town's Dutch midfielder Arnold Muhren, West Ham and England's Trevor Brooking and Spurs' striker Steve Archibald.

It should be a good night and I'm looking forward to it.

Left: John Wark of Ipswich — one of the favourites to take the PFA 'Player of the Year' award.

Tough times at United

HOW times have changed since the last time we travelled to face Aston Villa . . . United's opponents on Saturday.

Last season we went there as League leaders and beat them 3-0.

Their players were under pressure and Villa manager Ron Saunders was really battling to keep his job.

I remember travelling with John Deehan (now with West Brom) to join up with the England Under-21 squad after the match.

We were listening to the local radio station in the car and the Villa team was really coming in for some stick.

The same can be applied to Ipswich Town — the team we face at Old Trafford a week later on March 21.

When they came to our place last season they were bottom of the First Division!

While we are out of the running for domestic honours, Aston Villa and Ipswich are now leading the chase for the League Championship.

Pressure

It's United who have been getting the stick this season and our own boss Dave Sexton has been under pressure from the Press and public.

Let me just say that the players are 100 per cent behind the boss and in our next two matches we'll be out to prove there's no lack of ability in the United side.

They will both be very tough games however.

Villa have improved so much as a team this season and they support each other so well.

Dennis Mortimer has played a marvellous captain's role for them.

By now you will know whether Ipswich are still in the FA Cup. If they are and they do progress all the way to Wembley, whilst retaining an interest in the UEFA Cup, Villa may just sneak the title.

However if Ipswich are knocked out of both, or even just one Cup competition, I fancy they'll be lifting the League trophy at the end of the season.

GARY BAILEY

Manchester United's popular England goalkeeper writes for Match

SORRY, HAMMERS

WEST HAM have done well this season and they've played some lovely football, but I believe they will come out second best to Liverpool in Saturday's League Cup Final at Wembley.

West Ham are an attacking side and for that reason I fancy them to score, but I'm going for a 3-1 Liverpool win.

UNITED'S players make a heck of a lot of personal appearances at supporters club functions during the season and my most recent such excursion took me to Guernsey.

Around 200 United fans turned up on the evening and I was able to spend a couple of days on the island.

Needless to say it wasn't exactly holiday weather — it rained most of the time.

*The two tables above clearly show Grimsby's dramatic rise up the Second Division table — from 18th to 4th in the space of three months!

GRIMSBY TOWN v Liverpool . . . in the First Division.

Just two years ago that would have seemed an impossible dream with the 'Mariners' in the Fourth Division.

But promotion in successive seasons and a remarkable run of success since Christmas has inched that dream closer to reality.

So close in fact that their dynamic skipper Joe Waters believes they can bring top flight soccer back to Blundell Park after a break of 20 years.

After hovering around the relegation zone, Grimsby zoomed into the promotion reckoning by taking 13 points from a possible 16 between Boxing Day and February 21, and Joe says:

"We have played most of the top teams and I don't think they are any better than us.

"In fact, apart from West Ham, it's a pretty mediocre division. Apart from the top five or six, the other teams are no better than the leading sides in Division Three.

"People are saying that the club is not ready for the First Division and that we would be better off having a good run in Division Two.

"Obviously there are doubts as to whether the team could survive in the top flight, but then people had fears about us in the Third and Second Divisions.

"The big thing is that we play as a team. We've got no star names — just a desire to work for each other and that's bringing results."

Eire international Joe reckons the reason for Grimsby's sudden surge up the table has been the rediscovery of the goal touch.

"Early in the season we lost the habit of winning and scoring. Even when we were relegated to the Fourth Division we were scoring goals.

"Players like Bob Cumming, Kevin Drinkell, Tony Ford and myself were all getting goals regularly last season, but suddenly the source dried up.

"But now we seem to have got back to our old ways and the goals are going in."

The Moore connection

IF GRIMSBY make it to the First Division then the family link will be maintained for brothers Kevin and David Moore.

Their father Roy and uncle Norman both played First Division football with the club back in the late forties and early fifties.

Says Kevin, recently converted from full back to his father's position of central defender: "It would be great if we could follow dad's footsteps back into the First Division.

"I used to watch Grimsby as a youngster and dreamed of one day playing for them in the First Division. Now that could come true this season.

"There's no doubt that whoever goes up with West Ham will struggle, but it will be nice just to get there.

"And there's no reason why we shouldn't make it. We're as good as the other promotion candidates."

The KENNY DALGLISH

Story

THE STORY SO FAR... CELTIC ARE ON THE VERGE OF THEIR FIRST TITLE UNDER KENNY'S CAPTAINCY.

PART 10

ON APRIL 16th, 1977 JOE CRAIG SCORED THE GOAL THAT CLINCHED CELTIC'S 10th TITLE IN 12 YEARS & KENNY WAS CHAIRED OFF THE PITCH AT HIBERNIAN.

THREE WEEKS LATER KENNY LIFTED THE DOUBLE WHEN JOE LYNCH RAP'ED IN THE PENALTY WINNER AGAINST RANGERS AT HAMPDEN, THOUGH SOME PLAYERS COULD NOT BEAR TO WATCH.

THEN DRAMA CUT SHORT KENNY'S CELEBRATIONS WHEN HE SPOTTED SOME FANS IN WHEEL-CHAIRS...

I'M JUST GOING TO SHOW THEM MY MEDAL.

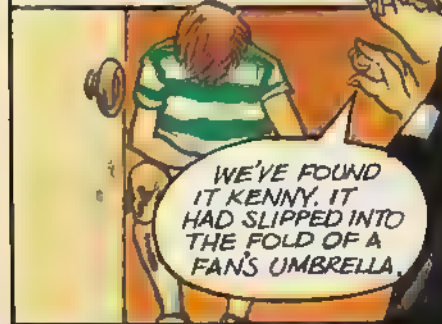

AS HE RAN OVER, HIS MEDAL SLIPPED FROM HIS HAND.

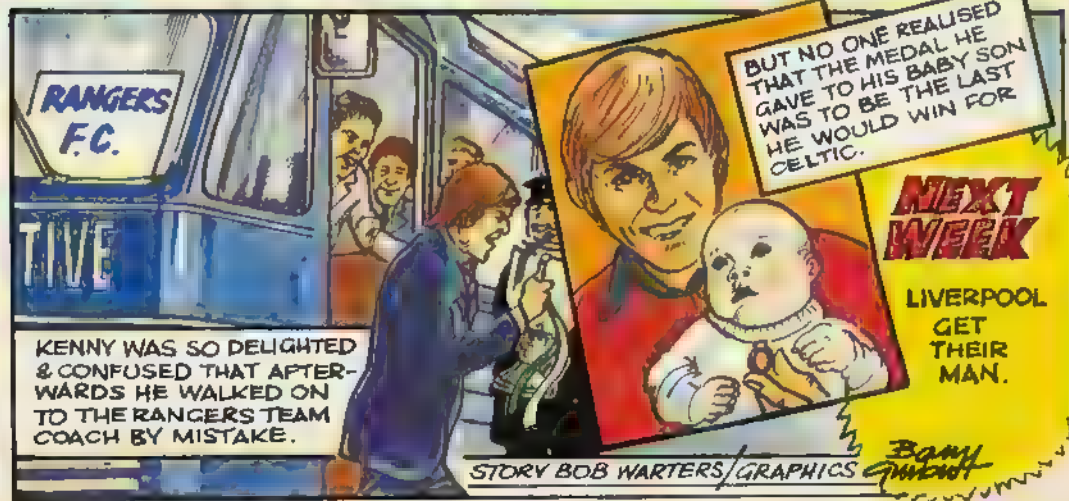

...AND DESPITE THE EFFORTS OF KENNY, GOALKEEPER PETER LATCHFORD & SEVERAL POLICE, THE MEDAL COULD NOT BE FOUND.

KENNY SAT DISTRESSED IN THE WINNERS DRESSING ROOM BECAUSE HE HAD PROMISED HIS MEDAL TO HIS SON PAUL - THEN A POLICEMAN APPEARED AT THE DOOR.

WE'VE FOUND IT KENNY. IT HAD SLIPPED INTO THE FOLD OF A FAN'S UMBRELLA.

KENNY WAS SO DELIGHTED & CONFUSED THAT AFTERWARDS HE WALKED ON TO THE RANGERS TEAM COACH BY MISTAKE.

BUT NO ONE REALISED THAT THE MEDAL HE GAVE TO HIS BABY SON WAS TO BE THE LAST HE WOULD WIN FOR CELTIC.

NEXT WEEK

LIVERPOOL GET THEIR MAN.

TACKLE A STAR

A feeling I can't explain

WHAT have been the most memorable and most disappointing moments of your career? Alan Bond, Chingford, Essex.

ALVIN: The most memorable has to be May last year when we won the FA Cup.

I can't explain the feeling when I heard the final whistle blow and I knew we'd won the Cup by beating one of the best teams in the country.

We were underdogs against Arsenal and to pull off a result like that was fantastic.

My biggest disappointment was a couple of years ago when I made my comeback after a lengthy back injury in a game against Wrexham.

I had a nightmare game — I couldn't do a thing right, gave away a silly goal and then conceded a needless penalty when I tipped the ball over the bar.

It was a crucial game for us and we needed to win. In the end we lost 4-3. I was very young then and it took me some time to recover from that experience.

My Liverpool heroes

HOW did you get into football and which team did you support as a youngster? John Reynolds, Barnet, Herts.

ALVIN: Living in Bootle I was a keen Liverpool fan and used to watch them regularly from the Kop end. John Toshack (now manager at Swansea) and Kevin Keegan (now skipper at Southampton) were my heroes.

I was discovered at 14 playing for Netherton Boys, Bootle. I didn't know it at the time but the person in charge of the side was a scout for a couple of teams.

He introduced me to then West Ham manager Ron Greenwood, who made a big impression on me.

There was a chance of me going to Everton, but in the end it was the 'Hammers' who offered me apprentice status.

Hammers can be great

WHAT are your hopes and ambitions for the future? Bob Stewart, Letchworth, Herts.

ALVIN: I want to see West Ham go up to the First Division as champions and become a force in the top flight.

I don't want us to just stay there. We have the ability and experience to become one of the top sides in the country — in the Liverpool and Ipswich mould.

Obviously every player wants to represent his country. I don't think about my chances too much. I just know that if West Ham keep playing well and my form is consistent then I stand a chance.

SO CONFIDENT

DO YOU think it's dangerous to be involved in too many cup competitions? Simon Davis, Brighton, Sussex.

ALVIN: Our cup exploits the season haven't had a bad effect on our League form. In fact the reverse is true.

Results are going well for us and confidence at Upton Park is high. The players look forward to the next game.

There's no danger of us getting tired before the season ends. We would have felt the effects of fatigue before now.

PROGRAMME GUIDE

WATFORD

WATFORD may be Second Division in terms of football but their behind-the-scenes set-up is definitely top flight.

Since Graham Taylor took over as manager they've had a reputation as a go-ahead club and this is certainly reflected in their match-day programme.

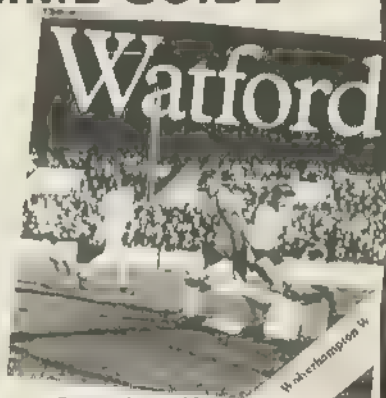

For 30p they produce — without the help of any supplement — 24 bright, picture-packed pages to entertain their fans before kick-off.

We looked at the programme for the FA Cup clash against Wolves and found it good value for money.

For a club with limited resources it's obvious that great effort has gone into the production of the magazine.

If it's action pictures you like then you'll be pleased with the programme. There were plenty of shots from recent Watford games, plus a colour photo on the front.

As well as the manager's column there was a feature on new signing Pat Rice plus plenty of behind-the-scenes news. Plenty of advertising, too, helping to offset printing costs.

Liverpool

LIVERPOOL will not just win the League Cup for the first time in their history on Saturday... they'll become the first team for a decade to clinch victory with something bigger than a one goal margin.

Not since Spurs defeated Aston Villa 2-0 in the League Cup Final of 1971 has any team managed such a clear cut win.

And with West Ham setting such a scorching pace at the top of Division Two this season as Liverpool's Championship chances fade, many will go for yet another in a long line of close encounters beneath the twin towers of Wembley.

West Ham are a good side — definitely First Division material.

Liverpool on their day are a great side... unbeatable

Forget their one or two momentary lapses this season. They will rise to the big occasion.

So much for the game that will attract the biggest gate of the day...

The First Division title race and the scramble for promotion from Division Two goes on with ASTON VILLA entertaining MANCHESTER UNITED at Villa Park and top flight hopefuls GRIMSBY and NOTTS COUNTY mixing it at Blundell Park.

United are almost sure to explode into top form against somebody on the run-in, but Villa are tipped to bag two more vital points on Saturday. Confidence alone is worth a goal start to the home side.

And I'm going for Grimsby to steal a march on their promotion rivals Notts County to bring the 'impossible' dream that bit closer to reality (see Grimsby feature earlier in this issue).

Last, but not least, I'm forecasting an all to rare day of victory for lowly CRYSTAL PALACE who come up against SUNDERLAND at Selhurst Park.

LIVERPOOL to win 3-1 . . .
Manchester United to lose 2-0 . . .
Luton to win 3-0 . . .

In the table on the right Match writer Paul Stratton has predicted possible scorelines for ten of Saturday's matches — including the League Cup Final.

And the challenge is — beat him if you can!

There's a space for your forecasts, one for your dad and a column for the actual results.

Award yourself two points for every score you get right and one point if you get a result right (i.e. home win, away win, draw) but the scoreline wrong.

And why not challenge your friends to beat you at the same time?

Left: Sunderland's Gary Rowell — his goal was enough to beat Crystal Palace at Roker Park earlier this season, but the London side might just get their revenge on Saturday.

West Ham's Paul Goddard
— enjoying story book stuff at Upton Park.

by Paul Goddard (West Ham)

ON THE eve of his first big Wembley final, young striker Paul Goddard looked back on the season so far and declared: "It's been story book stuff — I couldn't have written it any better."

"When I joined the 'Hammers' I was confident I was joining a successful club, but I never dreamt we'd be in the position we are now."

Paul's £800,000 move from Queen's Park Rangers last August could hardly have worked out better.

He has struck up a fine understanding with David Cross and now finds himself bidding to help the 'Hammers' land a magnificent treble in the shape of the League Cup, European Cup Winners Cup and Second Division Championship.

"I'm excited and proud to be going to Wembley on Saturday."

"Players can go through their whole career without ever playing in a Final so at 21 I have to regard it as a bonus."

"It's going to be a new experience for me. I shall be nervous, but a few nerves have always helped my game in the past."

In fact, it will be Paul's second

Wembley appearance.

"The first time, I was a QPR apprentice and played Arsenal in a six-a-side final before the 1977 Liverpool v Man Utd Charity Shield."

"We lost on penalties and I was one of those who missed from the spot. I remember that's all I could think about as I watched the Shield match afterwards."

"It will be great to go back as the main attraction this time."

As for Saturday's match with Liverpool, Paul says:

"People have been saying Liverpool have cracked up. Maybe they have gone through a bit of a sticky patch — by their standards — but what a team."

"I have tremendous admiration for Kenny Dalglish. His game is almost complete and it's true to say I've tried partly to model myself on him."

"You could go on and on. I hope we don't have a team talk about their players because we'll be left wondering how the heck we can win!"

WEMBLEY

League
Cup
Final

by Sammy Lee (Liverpool)

TWICE Liverpool's new discovery Sammy Lee has sat on the substitute's bench at Wembley and watched his team-mates take all the glory.

He spectated as 'The Reds' dismantled Arsenal 3-1 in the 1979 Charity Shield Final and again a year later when they overcame West Ham 1-0.

But on Saturday the 21-year-old, who has taken over from Jimmy Case in Liverpool's midfield, could finally end his wait and accomplish his dream of playing at Wembley.

"It was frustrating sitting, watching the team, but on both occasions Liverpool were playing so well that there wasn't much chance of me getting on the pitch.

"Both times I stepped on the famous turf. It was a great feeling and the atmosphere was tremendous — I'd love to sample it as a player."

But Sammy is modest about his chances of playing in Saturday's match against FA Cup holders West Ham.

"I'm not counting my chickens. I haven't been playing well recently and my place is no way assured.

"I've still a great deal to learn in the game, but I know I can play better than I have done in the last few games," said Sammy.

The dress rehearsal for the League Cup — this season's Charity Shield meeting — was a dour affair which Liverpool won 1-0.

Saturday's game will be different says Sammy: "In the Shield match we were just getting fit, but now we're both in full swing.

"Liverpool and West Ham like to attack and I'm looking forward to an entertaining final."

"In the Charity Shield our midfield over-ran them, but we couldn't turn the chances into goals — I just hope it's a different story this time!"

"I hope we don't have a team talk on Liverpool because we'll be left wondering how the heck we can win" — West Ham striker Paul Goddard.

"The atmosphere at Wembley is tremendous and I'd love to sample it as a player on Saturday" — Liverpool's Sammy Lee Sammy Lee . . . I'm looking forward to an entertaining final.

ALAN KENNEDY

Alan Kennedy as the Liverpool fans hope to see him on Saturday — in action against West Ham. Here he tackles Alan Devonshire during this season's Charity Shield game at Wembley.

Below: After a hard training session Alan enjoys going home for a cuppa and relaxing with his favourite reading — Match Weekly of course!

Above: Anfield, one of the most famous grounds in the world. Alan poses on the bonnet of his car outside his other home.

Although moving into a new home shortly Alan still lives in digs in Rainford. Here he's seen playing a computer game with his landlady's daughter, Allison (5).
